THE INHERITANCE

Panic in Las Vegas

The 1960,s. New Haven. Connecticut. In his sordid room, Peter, lying dejectedly on his bed, contemplated the wall with a mournful eye.
Debts were mounting up and there was no glimmer of hope on the horizon.
He hardly dared move outside his room for fear of meeting one of his many creditors. Things were looking desperate when there was a knock at the door.
"A letter for you", cried the caretaker's voice.
To his surprise he found an airline ticket to Las Vegas together with $200. A short note accompanied these welcome gifts.
"Your aunt, has just died making you sole heir to her fortune. However, there is one condition – you have to repeat her achievement of the thirties to win a million dollars in one night in Las Vegas."
There wasn't a moment to lose if he wanted to avoid his creditors.
He got out of the building and a race across town ensued. And all for the sake of an eccentric old woman. "How can I shake off my pursuer", he mused.
So get to where the action is and set off now for the depraved city that's known as LAS VEGAS.
